

MACON MIRRORED.

THE DAY'S NEWS FROM THE CENTRAL CITY.

At the City Hall—Resolutions of Thanks—The Artesian Wall—The Street Gang—Home Again—A New Steamer—News Notes and Personal Paragraphs of Interest, Etc., Etc.

MACON, June 17.—[Special.]—The Floyd Brides adopted the following resolutions at their last meeting:

To Captain Hardeman and members of Floyd Rifles:

Gentlemen, we, the committees appointed to offer resolutions of thanks to judges, ladies, and others, will meet us at our annual parade and hop on Wednesday, June 2nd, 1866, beg leave to report as follows:

We have resolved that we tender our sincere thanks to Messrs. Buchanan, Driggers and Lane, who acted as judges at our annual target practice for the jilt and impartial manner in which they conducted the same.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

To Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved, That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

(Signed) Lieutenant C. Drew, Corporal M. Folsom, Private Oscar Bald, Private Jas. McRee, committee.

The Artesian Well.

MACON, Ga., June 17.—[Special.]—The hard flint rock was so difficult to bore through that Mr. Clay has been compelled to abandon the project, temporarily at least. The probability is that the work will hardly be prosecuted, as it seems almost impossible to bore through it. No one can guess at the thickness of the strata.

There is now strong talk of having one near the city hall. The ground is higher there by a good deal, and they may miss the flint rock encountered nearer the river. It stands to reason, however, that they will very likely hit the same bed, and in that case the experiment would only be a little more costly with no better results. Still, if they could get water there, its value would be incomparable.

The Street Gang.

MACON, June 17.—[Special.]—Captain Denton's street force are at work near the Central railroad tunnel on McIntosh street. They are raising the sewer so as to drain the water from the city. A portion of the force are at work along an alley between Jackson and Calhoun streets.

Major Price and an official of the Eastern road are at the city hall investigating the matter of opening the notorious sewer at the foot of Spring street. This sewer has been a topic of contention for some time, but it will now be opened and the matter settled at a day.

Home Again.

MACON, June 17.—[Special.]—Mr. Lamar Clay has been at home for some days. His eyes are so weak that he cannot devote himself to his law office, but is gratified by the rapid recovery of the profession of his choice. He has learned the various characters and the dialogue of Hamlet and Romeo and Juliet since his return, and still has strong hopes of ultimately succeeding in the dramatic profession.

A New Steamer.

MACON, June 17.—[Special.]—A new steamer is to be built to ply the Ocmulgee between the city and the Clay, Huff and Lawton farms. Its capacity will be twenty to thirty cords of wood, and one hundred to one hundred and fifty bales of cotton. The river is easily navigable between the two points for a vessel of that burden. It will probably be built in this city, and the money is on deposit to pay for it.

Spicy Specials.

MACON, June 17.—[Special.]—George W. Sims, a printer, celebrated the forty-ninth anniversary of his arrival to the printer's trade today, June 17, 1847. He is in full business and has grown gray in the service.

In consequence of the severe heat and the sickness of the slaves, many men and women, Mr. Wiley has postponed the Second Georgia Battalion prize drill, from July 22, to next spring.

At the United States court today the second case of Dr. P. J. Campbell's trial began.

Judge Speer adjourned court till tomorrow for a final hearing.

The motion for a new trial in the case of Daniel A. Jewell et al. was denied. Owing to the illness of Judge Harris, city court stood adjourned till Monday.

The last spike will be driven in the Gilesville extension Saturday evening.

Miss Yetta Refeld and Leopold Gengenbarg are riding to the Fair on Saturday when the shaft of the huge bridge, the horse and carriage frightened, the young lady was thrown out, and struck on the face, knocking her senseless. She was taken to the residence of Mrs. Wippner and remained there until she recovered.

The "Gloster" stock is to be sold at auction, the judge having granted a petition for a receiver.

Rome, June 17.—Specially interesting, a falling down an elevator well at Wexelbaum's yesterday evening.

A. H. Jones, of East Macon, has purchased Massa's ice cream factory on Fourth street, and will push the business.

Jacob Clegg has purchased and thoroughly renovated his old store, located across from The Young Men's Christian Association, having fitted up a neat manner for a place of meeting.

Washington Lodge No. 28, A. O. U. W., held a festival on Windsor hill this evening. It was well attended.

Three hundred and twenty-three students were matriculated at the closing session of Wesleyan.

Mr. Henderson nearly completed his beautiful drop curtain which he has been painting for the college at New Haven.

Personal Paragraphs.

MACON, June 17.—[Special.]—Miss Willkins of Waycross, returned to town today, carrying with her a guest Mrs. Brown, with whom she has been staying.

Eugene McWilliams, of the third division; Charlie Johnson, of the first division; Sterling Turner sharing it with him; Harry Goods, of the second division. These young men won the medals as the best speakers of each division.

For general excellence, Sam Slack and Duncan Burns shared the medal. In the primary department Robert Ridley got the medal.

J. T. Edwards—"New England."

Ferdinand Phinney, of Athens, owns the old homestead on which his father, grandfather and great grandfather resided, and he is one of the best farmers in the whole county.

At his magnificent Cobham suburban home the luxuriant young corn and wheat fields compare to the rest of the country.

The Cartersville Courant reports a hopeful feeling among the negroes men. The negroes are quite a bit better off than the white people, and are making a good living.

The "Gloster" stock is to be sold at auction, the judge having granted a petition for a receiver.

Rome, June 17.—Specially interesting, a falling down an elevator well at Wexelbaum's yesterday evening.

A Joint Snake in Roswell.

ROSWELL JUNCTION, June 17.—Last week a party of boys were picking dewberries a half mile above here, when they came across an immense joint snake. When it was struck it flew into five or six pieces, much to the amazement of the boys. The snake, however, in disparting all the bits in the head joint before it came together again. This is the first snake of the kind ever seen in this neighborhood.

Judge Blackley on Scrammer.

GAZETTE, June 17.—[Special.]—Judge L. E. Blackley and his son, Logan, arrived here last night. The judge appears to be enjoying good health, and seems to enjoy our mountain scenery as usual. This morning he was in high glee over his excellent night's rest and the pure invigorating atmosphere of the mountain.

The Farmers in Rabun.

CLAYTON, Ga., June 17.—[Special.]—The continual rain for the past three or four weeks has materially interfered with the farming interests in Rabun county. The majority of our farmers are considerably behind with their work. A large part of the corn planted in the bottoms will yield small returns.

The Wheat Harvested.

DAIRYVILLE, Ga., June 17.—[Special.]—Our farmers have about harvested their wheat crop. The winter crop has been damaged greatly by the rains. Other crops are doing well. Peaches are beginning to ripen. Berries are plentiful on the market.

"TAPER OFF"

on "Red Lion" Elixir.

COLUMBUS CHRONICLES.

Died From His Wounds—Death of an Old Lady, Etc.

COLUMBUS, Ga., June 17.—[Special.]—James Miller, the white man who was stabbed by a negro on Oglethorpe street, last night, died this morning. An inquest was held over the body and the jury returned a verdict that he died of stab wounds. The negro, who had a knife or some other sharp instrument in the hands of a negro, whose name is unknown. The negro is a vendor of a patent liniment and called himself Dr. Brooks, with numerous aliases. He has not been arrested and his whereabouts is unknown.

Mrs. Susan McDuffie died in this city today. She was a native of Oglethorpe county, but had resided in Columbus for some time. She was a member of St. Luke's church and a good woman. She was the mother of John N. McDuffie and Mrs. J. H. Frampton.

Mr. Jesse Barnes and Miss Fannie Bloodworth were married at Trinity church in Brownsville, tonight, at 7:30. Rev. Mr. Cummings performed the ceremony. The church was elegantly decorated for the occasion.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Resolved, That we extend to them our most heartfelt gratitude for the generous manner in which they conducted the entertainment to the benefit of the target practice, and also our thanks for brightening our entertainment by their charming presence.

Dr. J. A. Cheatham, of Rankin's Co. Resolved,

That we gratefully thank him for his noble efforts in securing the free gift of delicious suds water to which members were invited. We assure the brother of our old comrade that we shall ever retain him in our grateful remembrance.

To the ladies Res

not as bad as thought we were contested Colonel My-
natt had that point been nominated time Mr.
His friends that petition None as charged. If in reputed Hammond by Colonel Myntt,
Wallace, waives
the Womans
Mr. Hammond
Both
We sent Mr. natural with commission, business in powers of that parts. But he those who em-any other under ship to Ma-real.
all this history
interstate legislation with equal in, in the nature
subject.
Mr. Hammond,
his home,
ns are located.
VOTER.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
RECOMMENDED
RS
—THE
IRON WITH PAINS AND COMPLETELY
CURE IT.
Weakness
Blamed Reverse Diseases of the Pains peculiar to dentary lives.
use headache or other medicines do not cure the condition of food, resting, and strengthassitude. Lack of strategic mark and Take no other.
DATING'S, ETC.

HENRY'S
S TII
masking are origin-
of the LIVER,
as far as Torpidity of liver, Jaundice, Hepatitis, Fatty Liver, etc.
of the Stomach
Malaria, Malaria,
Bleeding Ulcers,
Diarrhoea, Foul Breath,
diseases down
S AURANTIO
aces for all diseases
of the LIVER,
and CURE IT.
A way, yellow Entirely removes the best al-mers of the JABALY TONIC.

AURANTII
$1.00 per bottle.
Proprietor,
Philadelphia, Pa.
10-Jawson's Tonic

THE CONSTITUTION

PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION IS PUBLISHED EVERY DAY
IN THE WEEK, AND IS DELIVERED BY CARRIERS IN THE CITY, OR MAILED, POSTAGE FREE, AT $1 PER MONTH, $150 FOR THREE MONTHS, OR $10 A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTION IS FOR SALE ON ALL TRAINS LEAVING OUT OF ATLANTA, AND AT NEWS STANDS IN THE PRINCIPAL SOUTHERN CITIES.

ADVERTISING RATES DEPEND ON LOCATION IN THE RAILROAD, AND WILL BE FURNISHED ON APPLICATION.

CORRESPONDENCE CONTAINING IMPORTANT NEWS,
SELECTED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY.

ADDRESS ALL LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS, AND MAKE ALL DRAFTS OR CHECKS PAYABLE TO

THE CONSTITUTION,
Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA, GA., JUNE 18, 1886.

Indications for Atlanta and Georgia, taken at 1 o'clock a.m.
Local rains, nearly stationary temperature. Georgia, Florida, Alabama, North Carolina and South Carolina: Local rains, followed by fair weather, stationary temperature; variable winds.

A BRONZE statue of Daniel Webster was unveiled at Concord, New Hampshire, yesterday.

M. MORRISON says the reason he gave notice that he would call up the tariff bill again next Tuesday was to allow opponents time to repeat.

MR. GLADSTONE started on his Scotch campaign yesterday. A great crowd gathered at the railway on his departure, and the premier addressed them.

The authorities at Munich are busy collecting evidence to prove the insanity of the dead King Ludwig. It seems he had a habit of hurling anything that came within his reach of people who offended him, and issued a decree condemning his ministers to death.

The citizens of Charleston, S. C., sent a handsome bridal present to Mrs. Cleveland, in the shape of a mammoth silver vase. The president replies in a letter accepting the gift for his bride, and thanking the donors for the compliment paid him in the note accompanying the present.

The Reaction Setting In.

The fact that barely a hundred people met to hear Dr. Felton in LaGrange, one of the best towns in one of the most populous counties in Georgia, is a healthy sign. Many of the Bacon men stayed away because they were disgusted with Dr. Felton and his abuse of Gordon. The reaction against the slanders of Gordon has set in, and it will grow like a tidal wave.

The people are beginning to appreciate the miserable conspiracy to destroy the private and public character of General Gordon by wanton and persistent slander. It is an old game, and has been tried before in Georgia, and always rebuked. Gordon asks no vindication. His whole life, stainless and honest, will vindicate him in history when his defamers have been forgotten.

But mark this. The slanders of Gordon all come from Dr. Felton and the Macon Telegraph. The "Plain Talk" letters, it is known, are written in Dr. Felton's family. All the charges of dishonesty and corruption come from these sources. But the Telegraph itself has said of Dr. Felton that he has been convicted as "a renegade and falsifier." So much for his veracity as viewed by the Telegraph. As to his reliability, it said that he reminded it of "Guiteau," and that he deserved to rank as a demagogue with Herr Most, who is now in the penitentiary. And yet, when this man, denounced by the Telegraph as a liar and a crank and a communist, abuses General Gordon he becomes a patriot, a Christian and a statesman. He was a "falsifier and renegade" until he assists them in pulling down the chivalric Gordon, and then he is admirable and adorable.

This same Dr. Felton, who now abuses Gordon, is the same that slandered Senator Hill. The hand that stains Gordon's name is the same hand that attempted to write "infamy" on the white brow of Benjamin H. Hill and make his memory hateful in the hearts of his people. It was a letter written by this same Dr. Felton, and of which Ben Hill said, with a pathos that is thrilling in view of the death that followed it so closely: "This letter is the most bitter and venomous summary of charges against my private and public character I have ever seen. The vilest production of carpet bag slurs could not say more to defame me." No wonder barely a hundred people went to hear this man abuse and vilify another great Georgian.

The Macon Telegraph stands by these slanders, when other men have turned their backs on them, simply because it is the only chance for Bacon. In the services of the two candidates in peace and war; in the ability of the two candidates; in the platform of the two candidates; in the platform of the two candidates; in all this the Bacon men have no hope. Their only hope is in the circulation of slanders on Gordon, formulated by a man they had denounced as a falsifier; slanders that have been repudiated by all reasonable men, and that no man in Georgia believes to be true.

General Gordon's Nomination.
The mistake made by both Dr. Felton and the Macon Telegraph is in supposing that there is in Georgia a respectable number of democratic voters embittered against General Gordon, or who sympathize with the reckless attacks that have been made on his private and public character. This mistake on the part of Dr. Felton and the Macon Telegraph is a vital one, as the sequel will show. There are not, in the whole state of Georgia, enough men who believe that General Gordon is a liar, a coward and a thief, to form a corporal's guard, and the attacks that have been made on his character have disgusted a great many voters who might have preferred to vote for Mr. Bacon.

The bitterness and recklessness in this campaign are all on one side, and they are confined for the most part to the leading Bacon touts. The voters do not sympathize with such warfare, and will not induce it. This fact will develop itself later on in the most unmistakable manner. General Gordon will have a majority in the convention, and he will be the candidate of the democratic party for governor of Georgia.

When this occurs, what is to be the attitude of those Bacon leaders who, by their reckless charges against General Gordon, and "attack on his character, have shut themselves off from the privilege of supporting the democratic nominee? The inquiry is an interesting one, but it is not by any means important.

Whatever opposition General Gordon may have as the nominee of the democratic party will only tend to unite the organization more thoroughly. Whatever division there may be as to candidates, there is no division whatever as to the necessity of democratic success.

All the indications point to the fact that General Gordon will be opposed by an independent candidate after his nomination by the democrats—an independent that will seek the support of the ragged ends of republicanism. The democratic party has nothing to lose in such a contest. On the contrary, the organization will be strengthened and perfected, and the party will have one more opportunity of burying beneath an overwhelming majority the discordant elements that have so frequently sought to demoralize it.

The Morrison Tariff Bill.

The Morrison peculiar tariff bill was disposed of yesterday by a majority vote of seventeen, the speaker voting with the minority for consideration. Mr. Morrison is not satisfied with this vote, and announced that he would renew his motion for consideration next Tuesday. The result, we suppose, will be about the same; but Mr. Morrison, as he says, is anxious to put everybody on record.

What he means by "record," we are at loss to know, unless he really believes that his free trade bill is the particular measure alluded to in the democratic platform. If he believes this, his egotism is bulkier, by a good deal, than we had supposed; for the simple truth is that his crude and sectional measure would be overwhelmingly defeated before any representative democratic body.

If Mr. Morrison is insisting on the consideration of his bill to "make a record," it follows that he prepared it, not for the purpose of revising the tariff, but for the purpose of "making a record." Why should he go to all this pains, in order to "make a record," is a mystery to us, and it must remain a mystery. If he is not in earnest in his efforts to introduce free trade, he ought to tell the country so; if he is in earnest in his professed desire to reform the tariff, he ought to consult with the protectionists, and by a series of compromises creditable to both sides, give the country genuine tariff reform.

The "record" business is a farce. The democratic party of the present day is not a free trade party, as Mr. Morrison will discover before he gives up his efforts to make it such. He has been deceived by Mr. Watson, and he has been deceived by the attitude of various southern congressmen. It may be that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

This section has entered upon a new era of development. The old conditions are changed. We no longer boast that this is an exclusively agricultural section; we are striving to build up all sorts of industries, from the smallest to the greatest; we are even striving to compete with New England in some lines of manufactures. In fine, the people of this section, no matter what the newspapers may say, and no matter what the attitude of southern congressmen, it may be, that the complexion of the democratic party at the north is pretty much what it was before the war, though this fact is by no means attested by the attitude of the members of congress from that section; but the complexion of the democratic party in the south is entirely different.

through a window, and disappeared never to return.

Now, this is a good story, and Mr. Ker relates it in a graphic way. The only drawback is that it is a chestnut. Just how old it is, and how many times it has gone the rounds of the press for more than a quarter of a century. Sometimes Wellington has been the hero of it, and sometimes the first Napoleon. If we are not mistaken, Andrew Jackson once figured in it. In one of its best versions the soldier was not called in, but Napoleon aimed a pistol at the luckless inventor, with precisely what result we have forgotten.

How do these old stories get accepted and paid for? The answer is easy. The editors of our literary periodicals, and our syndicate men, as a rule, have never done a great amount of general reading. Like the average newspaper reader, they can tell whether an article submitted to them is good or bad, but they do not know whether it is original, stolen bodily, or revamped. Such editors are a godsend to industrious writers who have the patience to delve in the literature of the past, and reproduce it. Perhaps it is all right. At least, it enables the present generation to enjoy the good things that delighted their fathers and grand-fathers, and also enables some very clever persons to make a little money without much mental work.

Adulterating Drugs.

While the frightful adulterations in food have attracted considerable attention, and have, in several states, resulted in legislative action, the equally dangerous evil of adulterated drugs has been kept in the background.

There is good reason to believe that in this country the adulteration of drugs is a big business. Only the other day the president of the Trade association of Philadelphia druggists received a letter purporting to be signed by an oil company in Cleveland, O., offering to furnish an oil to be used as an adulterant for castor oil. The inducement was held out that the adulterated oil could be sold at double the profit made on the pure article. The Philadelphia association rejected the proposition with proper scorn and reported the outrage to the Drug Exchange.

We have reached a point where it is necessary for this matter of adulteration to be made the subject of severe penal legislation in every state. It is a murderous swindle in a life and death case to dupe a man into purchasing drugs so adulterated as to be worthless if not poisonous, and every man engaged in such a business should be hanged in the penitentiary. It is a big question, and deserves all the consideration our legislators can devote to it.

To-Day's Counties.

Two counties will elect delegates today: Brooks and Hancock. Both of these counties have been conceded to Bacon. Hancock has been claimed as five to one for him.

It is asserted that in Linton, one of the precincts of Hancock, there is not a single Gordon vote. It is likely that Hancock will go for Bacon, but his majority will be less than his friends have ever claimed and much less than five to one. In Brooks county there is a good chance for General Gordon. His friends are earnest and active, and apt to make a good report. His friends will be more than satisfied if he gets one of the two counties that act today. If he loses both of them it will be no more than is claimed as certain by his opponent.

The Hot Wave.

According to the weather prophets the hot wave left us yesterday.

Many are under the impression that our hot waves come from Texas. This is a mistake. During the winter most of our weather is sent to us from the neighborhood of Palestine, Texas, but during the summer the hot waves generated in Texas always move out into the gulf.

A CLERGYMAN well known to our Greenfield friends is to be married to a woman named Henry Waters, who has three sons. The bridegroom is a lawyer, and the bride is a widow of a man who was a member of the bar. The wedding is to take place on Saturday evening.

SECRETARY MANNING's health is improving. He is much pleased with the springs and hopeful of excellent results from his trip.

THE HOT WAVE. — To-day the thermometer in New York stood at 90°, and the sun shone brightly. The Princess Clotilde of Italy, with her husband, the Prince of Monaco, and their two children, was at the Hotel Astor. The Princess was in full bloom, and the sun shone brightly upon her. She was dressed in a light blue gown, and looked very well.

SECRETARY MANNING'S health is improving. He is much pleased with the springs and hopeful of excellent results from his trip.

THE HOT WAVE. — To-day the thermometer in New York stood at 90°, and the sun shone brightly. The Princess Clotilde of Italy, with her husband, the Prince of Monaco, and their two children, was at the Hotel Astor. The Princess was in full bloom, and the sun shone brightly upon her. She was dressed in a light blue gown, and looked very well.

SECRETARY MANNING'S health is improving. He is much pleased with the springs and hopeful of excellent results from his trip.

THE HOT WAVE. — To-day the thermometer in New York stood at 90°, and the sun shone brightly. The Princess Clotilde

GOSSIP.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE GOVERNORIAL CAMPAIGN.

DUPONT GUERRY COMES BACK AT THE TELEGRAPH AND SHATTERS HIS SILLY PRADDLING ABOUT HIM—BACON'S VOTE FAILS TO AROUSE ENTHUSIASM—HOW THE VOTES STANDS, ETC.

AMERICUS, Ga., June 17.—Editors

SUBMISSION: At different times has the convention of the Macon Telegraph published editorials and otherwise, vague charges and insinuations against me respecting my conduct during that occasion. I have never been asked to speak of my conduct in the election of General John B. Gordon.

PROGRESS OF THE CAMPAIGN.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

A MORAL REFORM IN PROGRESS AT THE CAPITAL CITY.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—[Special.]—The bill just passed by the house forbidding under heavy penalties the sale of pools or public betting on any and in the District of Columbia is the result of a long and laborious campaign which has been growing in Washington for several years. Only five years ago there were a dozen superbly furnished gambling rooms on and near Pennsylvania avenue, besides as many more dives in other parts of the city where all sorts of games of chance were played twenty-four hours a day. The bold and open manner in which these games were operated caused a strong protest from Congress, who successfully appealed to Congress for the enactment of a stringent law against gambling. In one night all these notorious dens were closed, and since that time there have been no such places here. Some of the gamblers crossed the river and set up their machines in Alexandria, a town so devoid of anything like enter- tainment that it welcomed even this bad form of enter- tainment. After the suppression of the regular gambling houses in Washington, the several social clubs in the city became famous, which went on under the protection of their charters. Test cases were made and the courts held that the police had no right to pry into the proceedings of "clubs." In consequence of this decision charters for "clubs" became valuable property, and there are several such establishments doing an extensive gaming business in the city. There are a number of rooms wide open where every day thousands of dollars are bet on horse races all over the country, on baseball, and anything that offers the slightest suggestion of chance. The opposition to these concerns has been voiced in the bill of Mr. Sessions of New York, which has just passed the house. It is said that the bill will meet considerable opposition in the senate.

The suppression of pool rooms would be of especial value to the department clerks, hundreds of whom make a place as soon as office hours are over, and often risk their last cent on a horse race or a baseball game.

Washington has a strong fit of virtue just now.

THE DISTRICT OFFICES.

Some of the best plums in the gift of the administration are the offices in the District of Columbia.

Washington is a democratic city by a good majority, and the democratic citizens have been very active in politics and particularly in retaining republican officials.

Clayton McMichael, of Philadelphia, the former marshal, had to resign twice, the second time in the most emphatic manner, before the president would appoint his successor. Fred Douglass could have held on as recorder of deeds if he had chosen so to do. A Mr. Ramsell, who wrote campaign lives of Blaine and did much gorgeous padding for the republican candidate, was recorder of wills, an office worth $10,000 a year, without the least prospect of being disturbed.

The day passed off and night wore on so that we began about their coming, though the stars shone brightly. The day was not long as fast as the night, but the men who had not mustered courage to join the army had enough left to march in the ranks, notwithstanding the small numbers under Jenkins, and the desperate character of the writer was among them, and was trying to exchange dry goods and groceries for fresh ones, when he lay up treasure to assist in postponing the draft.

The day was being made on Dr. Smith Towns- head, the health officer of the district, and a brother of Congressman Dick Townsend, of Illinois. Dr. C. M. Hammatt, a prominent physician of this city and a sterling democrat, was backed for this office by very strong influences.

It appears that Dr. Townsend has always been a republican until the last election. It is charged that he gave $50 to the Black coupe to help him get into the campaign. Naturally there is much complaint among the democrats living in Washington at the refusal of the administration to make changes in the offices of the district. It is intimated that some of the present officials will be requested to resign during the summer.

A MILLION DOLLAR CLAIM.

The success of a St. Louis lady in obtaining a judgment of $1,000,000 in the court of claims under the French spoliation act, has caused a fresh rush of claimants who seek to recover under that act.

Not one of these cases in fifty is worth a cent. A list of the claims already made was published by the government a year or two ago and it aggregated ten times the amount of the total fund awarded for French spoliation.

The St. Louis woman is fortunate indeed. Claims of all kinds against the government are, as a rule, very poor property.

F. H. R.

HARRIS AND BROWNLOW.

TWO BITTER ENEMIES AND HOW TIME TONED DOWN THEIR III FEELING.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The bill introduced a few days since by Senator Isham G. Harris, of Tennessee, for the relief of the widow of Parson Brownlow, is the sequel to an interesting story of the war.

The unrelenting denunciations of Governor Harris by Andrew Johnson and Mr. Brownlow when the questions of union and secession were under discussion in their state, form a prominent feature in the history of those times. In the first days of the confederacy Harris was one of its most noted war governors—an energy, one of the most brilliant, and a political tact, one of the most remarkable.

At first he was not a great favorite among the men of the south, but his popularity increased rapidly, and he soon became one of the most popular men in the south.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

He was a man of great tact, and a man of great popularity.

He was a man of great eloquence, and a man of great oratory.

He was a man of great wit, and a man of great humor.

He was a man of great energy, and a man of great influence.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.
showing the arrival and departure of all trains
from the city.

EAST TENNESSEE, VIRGINIA & GEORGIA R. R.
"Day Express from the "Day Express" No. 1
"New York Lim. From New York No. 12 15 pm
"North No. 15 12 55 pm
"North No. 11 11 55 pm
"Day Express from North
No. 12 15 30 pm
"Day Express from North
and Brunswick, No.
16..... 5 35 pm
"Pan Express South for S'vth & Fla. No. 15 15 am
"Pan Express South for S'vth & Fla. No. 13 5 30 pm

THE PRINCIPAL CENTRAL RAILROAD DEPART.
ADVERTISING RAIL ARRIVALS &
PAKES, AND WILL BE PUNISHED $25 a day
"Macon" 7 50 am To Macon..... 8 10 pm
"Athens" 7 50 pm To Athens..... 8 30 pm
"Savannah" 9 35 pm To Savannah..... 10 30 pm

WESTERN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD.
From Chat'a... 7 25 am To Chatanooga... 7 50 am
Marietta... 8 58 am To Chattanooga... 1 50 pm
Knoxville... 9 15 am To Chattanooga... 1 50 pm
Chat'a... 2 30 pm To Marietta... 5 15 pm
Chat'a... 6 35 pm To Chattanooga... 5 55 pm
To Chatanooga 11 00 pm

ATLANTA AND WESTERN RAILROAD.
From Akron... * 15 pm To Selma... 2 25 pm
To Akron... 11 30 pm

GEORGIA RAILROAD.
From Atlanta 6 am To Augusta... 8 00 am
Covington... 12 40 pm To Atlanta... 9 00 am Decatur... 10 15 am To Clarkston... 12 10 pm
Augusta... 1 00 pm To Augusta... 2 45 pm
"Augusta" 5 50 pm To Augusta... 7 30 pm

RICHMOND AND DANVILLE RAILROAD.
From Lula... 8 25 am To Charlotte... 7 40 am
Charlotte... 12 40 pm To Charlotte... 4 45 pm
"Charlotte" 4 50 pm To Charlotte... 4 45 pm

GEORGIA PACIFIC RAILWAY.
From Big 'n'... 7 20 am To Birmingham... 8 05 am
"Big 'n'" 3 55 pm To Birmingham... 4 30 pm

TRAINS MAKE UP DAILY. ALL OTHER TRAINS
DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY.

Bankers and Brokers.

HUMPHREYS CASTLEMAN, BROKER AND DEALER IN

Bonds and Stocks.

Wanted—Atlanta Georgia State Bank stock, Merchants' Bank stock, Gwinnett County Bank stock and other bonds.

For sale—State of Georgia and other securities.

HUMPHREYS CASTLEMAN.

W. H. PATTERSON,
BOND AND STOCK BROKER

34 Pryor Street.

FOR SALE. Georgia State 4% per cent bonds.

Milledgeville Georgia K. R. R. 1st mortgage 6% per cent bonds due 1911.

The state bonds above are well known to require compensation, and as to the Marietta and Newnan bonds, we will be pleased to furnish official information as to their merits.

WANTED—Georgia State Bonds.

G. W. R. R. Stock and debentures.

South Western R. R. Stock.

Atlanta City bonds.

THE GATE CITY NATIONAL BANK OF ATLANTA, GA.

UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY

Capital & Surplus $300,000.

Issues Certificates of Deposit Payable on Demand With interest.

Three per cent per annum if left four months.

Four per cent per annum if left six months.

4% per cent per annum if left twelve months.

THE

GEORGIA PACIFIC RY

WILL SELL

ROUND TRIP TICKETS

—TO—

AUSTELL AND SALT SPRINGS

AS FOLLOWS.

LIMITED TO TWO DAYS,

Including date of sale.

SIXTY CENTS!

ON SATURDAYS AND SUNDAYS,

Limited to return before noon Monday.

FIFTY CENTS!

NOTES.—

ALEX S. THWEATT, SAM B. WEBB,
T. A. Pass, Agent.

B. F. WILSON, Gen'l'c, Atlanta, Ga.

G. S. BARNUM, Birmingham, Ala.

Beeline to New York and Boston.

THIS IS THE ONLY LINE RUNNING SLEEPING

CARS FROM CINCINNATI, BOSTON, AND THE ONLY

LINE RUNNING THROUGH THIS CITY INTO THE NEW YORK

WITHOUT ANY TRANSFER WHEREVER, AVOIDING THE DIS-

TRIBUTARY OF THE HARRISBURG, HARRISBURG,

NO EXTRA CHARGE ON THE LIMITED, EXPRESS, FOUR STAR

EXPRESS TRAINS A DAY FROM CLEVELAND, BUFFALO, ROCHE-

STER, AND NEW YORK, AND OTHER PLACES IN THE NEW ENGLAND AND CANADA; ASK YOUR TICKET AGENT

FOR MAP AND FOLDER, OR ADDRESS

J. E. REEVES,

General Southern Agent, Cincinnati, O.

ang'gularly

GENERAL SOUTHERN AGENT, CINCINNATI, O.

General Southern Agent, Cincinnati, O.

ang'gularly

GENERAL SOUTHERN AGENT, CINCINNATI, O.

<p

THE CONSTITUTION.

EVENTS FOR TO-DAY, JUNE 18.

AMUSEMENTS—

ATLANTA-MEMPHIS—BASEBALL AT ATHLETIC PARK AT 3:30 P.M.

OPERA HOUSE—DR. ARMSTRONG'S LECTURE TONIGHT.

MEETINGS—

BOYS ONLY AT Y. M. C. A. ROOMS AT 4 P.M.

THROUGH THE CITY.

Pencl Paragraphs Caught on the Fly by the Constitution Reporters.

NOTARIES PUBLIC COMMISSIONED.—Yesterday Governor McDowell commissioned the following notaries public: Oliver P. Charchwell, 511 dist., Duluth, county, vice N. B. Whitefield, deceased; and O. P. Poos, 774 district, Muscogee county, vice W. A. Cobb, deceased.

PUTTING BELGIAN BLOCKS DOWN.—Mr. E. Maher is pushing the belgian block work on Whitehall street as rapidly as men can do it. The street is all torn up now, but will soon be one of the bestdrives in Atlanta. Mr. Maher went up to Stone Mountain yesterday to see about blocks.

TONIGHT.—The Sunday school of the Second Baptist church will have a social reunion this evening at the church. An interesting program is arranged and a pleasant time is anticipated. The entertainment is free to the members of the school, and they would be glad to have their friends present.

LOOKING AT THE MONUMENT.—Early yesterday morning a delegation from the National Eclectic medical convention formed an excursion to the McPherson monument. In the convention are many old union soldiers and their visit to the monument of their dead chieftain will form a pleasant portion of their three days sojourn in Atlanta.

A PLEASANT EVENING.—The O. M. Mitchell No. 21 post, Grand Army of the Republic, convened in regular meeting last night in their hall on Whitehall and Hunter streets. The attendance was large and the camp fires burned until late. Several visiting members were present and old war stories were told and listened to with great pleasure.

HE WILL GET WELL.—Mr. Oscar Ballard yesterday returned from Millidgeville, where he has seen his half brother, Will Thompson, the photographer, who has been in the asylum for the past six months. Mr. Ballard and Mr. Thompson, which live in the same house and are both pensioned, were told by Dr. Powell, the physician in charge, that a permanent cure could be effected and had almost been accomplished.

Mr. Thompson appeared rational enough, and Mr. Ballard could detect no evidence or indication of insanity. Dr. Powell says that he thinks he will be able to discharge Thompson by the first of July.

WILL MEET NEXT MONDAY.—The general council will convene in regular session next Monday afternoon for the second and last time during the month of June. The most important feature of the session will be the two weeks' examination of the laws of the prohibition laws after the first of July and assessing the license tax for the sale of native wine. When both of these ordinances are taken up a lively and entertaining discussion will ensue. The friends of the ordinances are now doing everything possible to secure their passage while those opposed to them are working equally as zealously to accomplish their defeat.

TO THEIR LADY FRIENDS.—The members of the Young Men's Christian association will give a supper, complimentary to the ladies of Atlanta who have been assisting them in their efforts. The supper will be given at the Young Men's Christian Association, 10 Forsyth and Walton streets, one week from next Tuesday, and will be one of the most enjoyable affairs in which the association has taken part. The orchestra, composed of members of the association, will make its first appearance on that evening. The young men of the association will render good vocal and instrumental music and recitations. The young men will act as waiters on this occasion, and will attend the ladies at the different tables.

HE LOST A FINGER.—Walter McLean, a young man who was working at the May 1st factory, lost a finger in his right hand yesterday and received an ugly wound in his breast. McLean was working with a buzz saw, when by accident he placed his hand too near the saw. In an instant the teeth amputated the finger near the upper joint. About the same time a tooth broke from the saw and flying through the air struck McLean in the breast. The saw was still moving when it hit the man, and cutting its way through his clothing, it opened an ugly wound in the flesh, from which the blood flowed profusely. McLean was placed in a hack and driven to his home on Howard street, where the necessary medical attention was given him.

THE POLICE COMMISSIONERS.—The board of police commission convened in special session last night in their chamber at police headquarters. Commissioner Martin, chairman pro tem, presided and Commissioners Goldsmith, and Stephens and Mayor Hillier were present. Commissioner Martin stated that the meeting was adjourned so that the board might take some action relative to the enforcement of the prohibition law after July 1st. Mayor Hillier then introduced a resolution wherein it was recited that the burden of enforcing the law would be upon the police department, and that as the laws now stand the fines and forfeitures would accrue to the county and not to the city. It was also upon the general council to pass such ordinances as would place the cases in police court. The resolution was adopted. Mr. Stephens introduced a resolution requesting the council committee on local legislation to secure the passage of such laws as would allow the recorder to sentence offenders to terms on the public work more commensurate with the amount of the fine than is now allowed.

THE COTTON STATES LIFE.

A Bill Filed to Asking for a Receiver for the Company.

On Wednesday a most important and interesting litigation was begun in the superior court of Bibb county.

A number of policyholders in the Cotton States Life insurance company, on behalf of themselves and all others in interest, who might come in and join with them, whether policyholders or creditors, filed a bill against that company and its president and creditors, alleging that the company had withdrawn its agencies, ceased to issue policies and failed to make returns to the government or comptroller-general, or to take care of the company and its property.

It was therefore a general cause for alarm of Atlanta to obtain his supply of liquor from that town. Doubtless a few Atlanta keepers will be tempted to open business there; but I don't think that a liquor business in Griffin which depends upon Atlanta for support will stay. Even when men have to send such a short distance as forty miles for liquor, they are not apt to drink much—certainly not enough to support one barroom, to say nothing of a dozen or more."

You believe, then, that prohibition will prohibit?

"Of course I do; and I can't see the wisdom of kicking against an accomplished fact. The thing for the citizens of Atlanta to do now is to shut up on the subject, and to pull together for the good of the town. In twelve months from today the growers in Atlanta will be so few that it will be difficult to employ a regiment of detectives to find them."

TO DECREASE THEIR STOCK

as rapidly as possible appears to be the aim of every keeper in the city. Early yesterday morning two gentlemen went into Floyd & Smith's barroom, 3 Peachtree street, and purchased two glasses of lemonade. One of them said to Mr. Floyd:

"What are you going to do when the prohibitory goes into effect?"

"I have not yet decided," was the reply.

"Of course we will be compelled to seek some other business. What we are trying to do now is to reduce our stock. That is what all the other bar keepers are doing."

"Will the law be enforced?"

"Quite a number of people are boasting that they will evade the law, but I believe it will be enforced to the letter. The keepers themselves will help to enforce it. They wish to have prohibition prohibited in order that the people may know what it is."

"Has the fact that prohibition will soon reign had any effect upon the business of the barrooms?"

The attorneys filling the bill are Messrs Harrison & Peeples and J. H. Lumpkin, of Atlanta, and Gustin & Hall, of Macon. The company has not yet filed an answer, and it is not known who will represent them. The case has been set for a preliminary hearing on Saturday, June 26th. It will be a case of unusual interest, involving a large amount of money and assets, and the rights of a large number of people.

Fees from Savannah to Macon $100.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

via Savannah $120.

via Albany $120.

via Atlanta $120.

